

TUMULT ON A RACE COURSE

THE SARATOGA RACES.

JUDGE WITHERS PRESSED IN BY A RIOTOUS CROWD AT MONMOUTH.

The Result of Topsy's Defeating Monitor and Parole—More Trouble from Looking at a Race from Different Angles.

A tumult, exceeding in violence any that has heretofore occurred under the present management of Monmouth Park, occurred at the close of the fourth race yesterday, which was a free handicap sweepstakes, in which Monitor, Parole, Topsy, and four other flyers were engaged at a mile and three-eighths. The finish was very close between Topsy, Monitor, and Parole. Monitor came on the inside, near the judges. Topsy, on the outside, and Parole between the two. To most of the crowd, who were looking across at Monitor, he appeared to win by a neck and shoulders. To the judges, who sighted across from the opposite side of the track, Topsy won by a head, and they gave her the race.

When the great mass of spectators had backed Monitor, and who in watching him flushed had lost sight of Topsy, saw her number hoisted as winner, they moved in body to the enclosure facing the judges' stand. Then began an ominous muttering like a storm brewing its sweep through a forest of Jersey pines. One tall, tate son of the Emerald Isle stepped in from the crowd, and, upon his arrival, began to hurt horses' stakes at the judges'. Superintendent Bradley seized the man and began to force him from the grounds. The crowd closed in on them, and soon half a dozen special officers were aiding Bradley. But the mass of human beings surged so that no progress could be made in expelling the man. Then Mr. Withers, one of the proprietors, and the officers, and Superintendent Bradley and the others. He had a cigar clenched in his teeth. The cigar stuck up at an angle of forty-five degrees in the direction of the crowd, and the spectators, who Irishman expostulated with Mr. Withers when Mr. Withers began to insist in forcing him out, began to cover his eyes, and, in cover, arms in the bosom, began to raise clenched fists, and a score of voices shouted, "Don't let him go out." It looked as if the crowd would burst. Many timid persons started for the shelter of the grand stand. The officers of the grounds succeeded in removing the men, and the disturbed spectators, who remained, assumed its sway among his would-be supporters. Quiet was restored, and the remaining races were run off without unusual trouble.
